Navacroski, Second Hand Clothing Dealer-City Firemen Calied Upon to Drown Out Murderer.

Providence, R. I., June 15.—Joseph Navocroski, aged 54 years, a second-hand, clothing dealer, was shot and killed in the door of his store on South Main street toright. His supposed murderer fled to the cellar, where after an exchange of shots with several police officers and an attempt by the fire department to drown him out he committed suicide by shooting.

Rent Receipt on Suicide's Body. A rent receipt found on the suicide's body was made out to Fred Leclaire. It was from the Pawtucket house, a Pawtucket hotel.

Murderer Took Refuge in Cellar. The sound of revolver shots issuing from the Navocroski store called the police to the place and the body of the storekeeper was found just inside the door, with two bullets in the forehead. Police Officer Patrick Blessing and Inspectors Ahern and Maguire were standing on the sidewalk in front of the store when several shots rang out, and one bullet, crashing through a celthe store when several shots rang out, and one bullet, crashing through a cellar window, cut a hole through the helmet of Officer Biessing, but without injuring him. The officers immediately returned the fire, shooting through the window into the cellar. Then, resolved to take no further chances with the man in hiding, they sent for the fire department.

A hose wagon responded and streams of water were turned into the cellar window for nearly an hour, when the officers again ventured to reconnoiter. When they made their way into the cellar they found the man's body in the water. A bullet wound and powder marks on his forehead showed that he had committed suicide. A revolver was lying beside the body. Robbery the Motive.

The man appeared to be about 25 or 30 years old. Aside from the rent receipt, no means of identifying the man was found in an examination of Navocroski was 54 years old and had a wife and five children, with whom he lived in a tenement over his store. Robbery is believed to have been the motive of the murder.

Higher Wage Demand Refused-Peace ful Walkout-No Precautions Taken Against Possible Disorder.

Yonkers, N. Y., June 15.—Without a word of warning to their employers, so it is said, the motormen and conductors of the Yonkers Railroad company went out on strike today.

Higher Wages Demanded. The cause of the strike is the refusa of a higher wage. The men demanded 39 cents an hour fores ten-hour day, for which they are now getting 25

The walkout was peaceful. The strike was decided on at a meeting at two o'clock this morning, and the men simply did not show up.

The cars of the Yonkers line start from the barns at the foot of Main street, and run to Mt. Vernon Tuckahoe and the New York city line on South Broadway at Two Hundred and Sixty-first street. Some run to Van Cortlandt park at Two Hundred and Forty-second street.

Company Not Notified.

Leslie Sutherland, receiver of the Yonkers Railroad company, says that he received no netification the mea were about to strike, and that the company was taken entirely unawares by the action of its employes.

The men were to hold a meeting at ten o'clock this morning at Hibernia hall, on Pallsade avenue, their headquarters but for some reason it was postponed. When asked when the meeting would be held, the men were

Democratic Candidate for Governor of Maine Angusta, Mc., June 15.—Mayor Fred erick W. Plaisted of Augusta, a son of Gen. Harris M. Plaisted, who, 36 years ago, was elected governor of Maine by a fusion of the democrats and greenbackers, was today nominated at the democratic state convenience. There were 200 iron barrels of benzine a few yards away, and workmen made a dash for safety.

A policeman sent in a fire alarm and some of the firemen turned in to bein

Rewards of Honesty.

Rewards of Honesty.

Whether Richard J. Parr gets $100,000 or seven times that amount for his services in exposing the sugar trust frauds, there can be no doubt that so handsome a reward will have a bracing effect on the morale of the government service as a whole, it is quite true that the government has a right to look to its employes for loyal service as a matter of the day's work and in no expectation of any other reward than the approval of their own ward than the approval of their own conscience. But men would not be men if so dramatic a demonstration of the somewhat neglected proposition that honesty is the best policy failed to make its impression. In an age which gives extraordinary rewards to the eventional it is not unfilling that the exceptional, it is not unfitting that so extraordinary a combination of in-ieligence, seal and courage as ftichard J. Parr displayed in the uphill fight Pawtucket, R. I., June 15.—In a collision of two street cars on Broadway tonight Frank Simmons, a conductor, was killed and a passenger, Mrs. Joseph Riordan, of Atlanias Folks, was injured. Simmons was collecting fares on the running board when another car swung from a side street and struck his car midway. The conductor's legs were crushed.

J. Parr disparations should receive exceptional recognition. Yet it would be unfair to thousands of goverment servants not to point out that good fortune, too, played its part in Parr's case, and that in faithful attendance to duty his case is not uncommon. So much has been said and written about shiftlessness and incompetency among government emcompetency among government employes us to obscure the fact that for every lax or unfaithful servant there must, in the nature of fuluss, be ten zealous and efficient servants, or the work of the government could not go on at all .- N. Y. Evening Post

Kermit will usher at the wedding thus conferring additional obscurity upon the groom.—Beston Transcript.
